PARTY SPEECHES IN THE LEGISLATURE

Refusal to Accept Advance on Capital Account Causes Considerable Discussion.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
Regina, Nov. 23.—The assembly prorogued Saturday afternoon.
The budget speech only lasted two hours, but it was quite interesting. In fact it was the only debate of the session. Patrick and Bennett made straight party speeches, the former declaring that the only way to get justice at Ottawa was to defeat the present Northwest members. Smith, of Moosemin, opposed the move refusing the capital advance. Brown, North Regina, congratulated the government on being able to get along without it, but said that it would be a bad principle to lay down or refuse to accept any advance until the Northwest Territories were created into provinces.

SUCCESSFUL BANQUET

Tendered W. T. Ashbridge, Resident Engineer, in the Grand View Hotel Last Night.

W. T. Ashbridge, resident engineer of the Edmonton waterworks and sewerage systems, was last night banqueted at the Grand View hotel by the contractors for the systems, Dobson, Jackson & Fry. The banquet was very successful and was carried out with a remarkable degree of enthusiasm. Upwards of fifty of Edmonton's influential citizens gathered to do honor to the man under whose guidance our municipal waterworks and sewerage systems have been carried to a successful issue. The table was laden with the most tempting viands and a very sumptuous banquet was partaken of. During the meal and at occasional intervals in the program, Clark's orchestra enlivened the proceedings with numerous and highly appreciated selections. The genial leader of the band is a host in himself, and the individual members of his orchestra are deserving of the greatest praise.

Rev. D. G. McQueen opened the evening's proceedings with prayer. After the dinner had been partaken of, the chairman, Mayor Short, proposed a toast to the King, his Royal Consort and the Royal Family. This was received with a hearty rendition of the National Anthem.

The chairman briefly reviewed the commencement, progress and completion of the waterworks and sewerage systems. The council who undertook the work had the courage of their convictions and got the systems started. The heavy responsibility, however, rested on the executive authorities, of whom the guest of the evening was practically the chief. Mr. Ashbridge had done his duty and had done it well. His work was characterized by ability and integrity. He had the utmost confidence of the council and he did not betray the trust reposed in him. It was a great mark of credit that the final cost of the systems will be well within the estimate. Mr. Ashbridge was then called on.

Upon rising, Mr. Ashbridge was received with great applause. He assured the contractors, Messrs. Dobson and Fry, who were present and the citizens generally that he was deeply touched by this expression of their good will. He would also carry away pleasant memories of his eighteen months' sojourn in Edmonton. He attributed a great deal of credit to the Mayor and council. An eloquent tribute to the progress of the town was paid by Mr. Ashbridge in referring to the work carried on. When excavations were commenced at one end of a street, before the other end was reached, this section would be built up with new residences which necessitated the extension of the systems. He paid a high tribute to Mr. Fry, who represented the firm in Edmonton. Mr. Ashbridge regretted that Mr. Chipman was not present and he assured the gathering that the head engineer would be pleased at the magnificent reception that had been tendered to his Edmonton representative. Mr. Ashbridge took his seat amid great applause.

An excellent song by Walt. Clarke was followed by a toast to the Houses of Parliament, coupled with the names of P. Oliver, M.P., and R. Secord, M.L.A., Mr. Secord was prevented from being present.

Mr. Oliver expressed his pleasure at being present. Much credit is due the mayor and council and to the genius and integrity of the chief engineer and the resident engineer. He wished to say a word for the contractors, Messrs. Dobson, Jackson & Fry, and especially for the junior partner, who had charge of the work in Edmonton. The contract had been handled in a thoroughly businesslike manner and was a credit to the men and a great benefit to the town. The work under Mr. Fry started on time, was pushed ahead on time, and finished on time. It has been a tremendous undertaking and its successful completion was a splendid credit to all concerned. It was a happy finish that the contractors and engineer were parting good friends.

A song, Billy Dobs, the Post, by Donald Ross, brought down the house, causing great laughter and applause.

The toast to the Town of Edmonton was responded to by Messrs. A. T. Cushing, J. H. Morris and Al. Brown.

A. T. Cushing was pleased, as a member of the council, to take part in the send-off to Mr. Ashbridge. He endorsed the many words of praise that were bestowed upon the guest of the evening. The ability and integrity of the resident engineer and the contractors were above reproach. Not a single cent had been ill-spent. The business methods which have characterized our city's work in the past should continue to exert a great influence on the future and thus make Edmonton a model city, both as regards municipal government and municipal institutions.

J. H. Morris and Al. Brown followed with speeches in much the same style. Donald Ross proposed the health of Mayor Short, which was drunk amid great enthusiasm. The balance of the program and toast list was:

The Engineering profession, coupled with the name of Rev. D. G. McQueen. Mr. McQueen made a very humorous and interesting speech.

Contractors, coupled with the names of Messrs. Fry, Dobson, McCrimmon and May. Mr. Fry made an excellent speech, briefly referring to his sojourn in Edmonton.

Another song by Walter Clarke was followed by a toast to the railroad and commercial interests coupled with the names of Messrs. Pace, Webster, Richardson and A. C. Fraser.

The Old Timers was responded to by W. G. Ibbotson and Donald Ross. Town Officials, responded to by Dr. Braithwaite, G. J. Kinnaird, N. B. Peck and T. G. Lauder.

The health of Mr. Ashbridge was then proposed and drunk with great enthusiasm.

The Press, responded to by Messrs. Cunningham, Kitto and McKinnon.

The Ladies, coupled with the names of K. Colling and Leslie Jackson. Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King brought to a close a very successful evening.

DEBENTURE LIABILITY.

(On Debentures for $110,000.00 at Forty Years.)

Annual interest on $110,000 at 4 per cent. .... $ 4,400.00

Total ..... $10,537.48

REVENUE.

In actual operation, 80 services and 48 hydrants ..... $ 5,900.00

In prospective operation, 60 services and 7 hydrants ..... 2,100.00

Water for building purposes ..... 500.00

Total ..... $8,500.00

Balance—Shortage ..... $2,037.48

In framing these estimates all data at present available has been made use of and the figures should be approximately correct for the first year's full operation, say 1904. The cost of running expenses is placed at an outside figure as a fair basis is not yet accurately defined. The first figures of revenue are actual rates, the prospective increase is probably understated, as a low average has been applied to only 60 services out of a total of 140 now ready for connection, and the revenue from water for building purposes will in all probability exceed the low figures given. The total cost to the town generally in 1904 should not exceed the fire protection charge, say 35 hydrants at $40.—$1,400, as the shortage in revenue, which should not exceed $2,500, may reasonably be carried over and liquidated when the system becomes self-supporting. The rates on the new services (37 services and 23 fire hydrants) turned on since the beginning of the present quarter, 1st October, 1903, will be levied and collected in December and are estimated to be more than will cover the running expenses for the remaining two months of the present year.

THE MARKETS.

Butter.—Butter continues exceedingly scarce. Twenty-five cents per pound is offered.

Eggs.—There are scarcely any eggs being delivered and 30c a dozen is paid. There would be an egg famine here had not a carload of eggs been shipped in from Ontario.

Potatoes.—Potatoes are plentiful at 25c a bushel. The deliveries have been tight the past few days, owing to the severe weather.

Poultry.—Chickens are becoming more plentiful, but not equal to the demand. Ten cents per pound, dressed, is offered for chickens and ducks. Geese and turkeys bring 12 1/2 cents a pound, dressed.

Hogs.—Hogs are scarce at from 6c to 6 1/2c, live.

Cattle.—Cattle bring 2 1/2c a pound live weight.

Hay.—The price of hay varies a great deal, both according to the quality and to the condition of the market at the time of sale. There is often several dollars difference in the price of hay of the same quality in one day. The price ranges from ten to sixteen dollars a ton. Green feed brings from six to ten dollars a ton.

Oats.—Feed oats bring from 20 to 23c. Better grades bring about 25c per bushel.

Wheat.—Wheat deliveries are fair. The price ranges according to quality from 50 to 80c per bushel.
